Just a little reminder, can all fans please wait for a stoppage in play before leaving your seat during games. First of all for your own safety as the puck can fly out the rink at any time so please keep your eye on it. Also in respect of other fans who are trying to watch the game.

If you do leave your seat during a break in play please remain at the bottom of the stairs for a stoppage in play before returning. The stewards will be there to advise you of this.

Ice Hockey is promoted as a family sport and here at Edinburgh Capitals this means so much to us as an organisation. Please be respectful of others at all times.

Our aim is for everyone to come to a game and go home feeling they have been entertained both on and off the ice.

We appreciate each and every one of you supporters and we will continue to try make your match night experience as enjoyable as possible.

Honours
Northern League Champions 2023-24
SNL Play Off Champions 2023-2024
Northern Challenge Cup 2024

What a controlled performance the guys put in last Saturday. There was some slick moves by both teams but there was also some scrappy play and we were happy to come out on top in the end.

It was great to see Ben posting his first shut out of the campaign and it was well deserved. At the other end we scored two slick goals and but for an excellent display by Bens opposite number in the Lynx goal and an unforgiving crossbar there might have been a couple more goals to celebrate.

Capitals did a great job in keeping Lynx's points machine, Brent Saretsky quiet who topped the SNL points scoring (4+18 in six games coming into the game).

Still the win, and the perhaps surprising Whitley loss at Solway, sees us sit top of the S N L and deservedly so.

Tonight's game will be another test of our skill and character with the Rockets coming here looking for the two points and will fight every minute of the game to be successful.

Capitals have proven they have the skill, will and determination to provide a huge challenge on the night.

Then we move to Dundee tomorrow night and we would love a big support to cheer the guys on. Whatever tonight's result is one team will be looking for revenge so a very interesting evening should be on the cards.

The face off at Dundee is at five o'clock so you can be home around nine o'clock Should you decide to go you won't be home much different from the time you get home from Murrayfield. Next Saturday we begin our Scottish Cup quest for the season with a visit to North Ayrshire Wild for our Scottish Cup first leg match.

The next game here is actually an 'away game' against Paisley Pirates. Please note Capitals season tickets are not valid for this game and there will be no on line programme. It's hoped a game sheet will be available from the merchandise kiosk. It is also our Foodbank Collection Night. It's also a 5:30 Face Off.

GB COACHES FOR 2025-26 NAMED

Ice Hockey UK is pleased to confirm the head coaches for Great Britain's national teams for the 2025–26 season.

The rest of the coaching staff for each team are still being finalised and will be announced in due course.

This season will see the continuation of investment in our GB Futures / GB Next Gen programme, which will integrate more young talent into senior environments and strengthen the pipeline to future Great Britain teams.

GB Men Head Coach: Pete Russell

Pete Russell continues in his role of head coach. The most decorated coach in GB history, Russell recently reached 75 games behind the GB bench and has led the national team to four gold medals and multiple top-flight campaigns. Pete started his career as a netminder with Ayr Raiders and had spells at Medway, Dumfries, Blackburn, Paisley, Slough and Castle-reagh.

GB Women Head Coach: Beth Hanrahan

Beth Hanrahan served as an assistant coach for GB Women at last season's World Championship in Dumfries, helping the team to a bronze medal. She brings NCAA player development and technical expertise and is currently assistant coach at Brown University (NCAA).

GB U20 Men Head Coach: Martin Grubb

Long-time Solway Sharks Head Coach, Martin Grubb continues in his role head coach of GB U20 Men. He's been part of six GB junior medal-winning teams at World Championship tournaments. Grubb has helped develop numerous players into full GB internationals and has a wealth of IIHF World Championship experience. Fife born Martin most notably played with Dumfries Vikings and Dumfries Border Vikings and Solway Sharks.

GB U18 Men Head Coach: Jamie Elson

Cardiff-based Jamie Elson replaces Sean Easton as head coach of GB U18 Men. Elson has held GB age-group roles since 2020 and delivered strong development programmes across the UK. With a strong video-analysis background, Elson also has EIHL and IIHF experience.

GB U18 Women Head Coach: Sean Alderson

Sean Alderson led GB U18 Women to gold and promotion last season and also took interim charge of GB Women at the World Championship earlier this year. He has worked with the national team since 2011 and has huge experience across men's and women's teams in the GB programme.

GB Futures (U16 Boys/Girls) Head Coaches: Euan King & Reg Wilcox

Euan King, long-serving Great Britain and Cardiff Devils goaltending and development coach, is confirmed as GB Futures U16 Head Coach, having recently lead them at the Estonia Four Nations tournament in August. King has been part of the GB Programme since 2019-20, winning two gold medals.

Former GB Women's Head Coach, Reg Wilcox will continue to lead GB U16 Women and support the Futures integration. Wilcox has extensive experience in the GB Women's programme for over two decades and has been part of six medal-winning teams at senior and junior level.

One GB Programme

This coaching group, led by Pete Russell, will work together as the leadership team for the Great Britain programme. There will be appropriate integration across age groups, including aligned game models, shared video and scouting resources, as well as targeted player transitions between GB Futures / GB Next Gen and senior environments. We are also reaffirming a clear commitment to transparent decision-making:

Selection by committee: In-depth selection committees for each team using agreed criteria and shared evidence which includes video and reports.

Accountability: All selection processes and programme standards will be overseen and held accountable by the GB Performance Committee.

Consistency: Common standards for culture, wellbeing and performance will apply across all teams.

Grant King, COO & Interim Performance Director, said: "This group of coaches brings a fantastic blend of continuity and fresh energy. "With Pete Russell leading a connected coaching team and with transparent, committee-based selection held to account by our Performance Committee, we're focused on standards, depth and a clear identity across every level of the GB pathway." "We wish each of the coaches all the very best for the season ahead and would like to thank the outgoing coaches for the time, commitment and dedication to the GB programme."

Ever wanted to skate out onto the ice through the Lion tunnel with the team?

Edinburgh Capitals are excited to offer a mascot package for the 2025-2026 SNL campaign, which will allow you to meet the team behind the scenes and take to the ice before the opening Face-Off. The package costs £100 and mascots can be of any age. This will cover entry to the game for 1 adult and 1 child.

As a mascot, you and one guest will enjoy the pre-game experience here at Murrayfield Ice Arena with a chance to meet the players and grab photos and autographs. You will then get ready to take to the ice with the Edinburgh Capitals. You will also be able to watch the team warm up from the Capitals bench (helmet and face guard must be worn and can be provided).

As the lights go down and the atmosphere rises, you will skate out with the player of your choice for the opening Face-Off, and photos will be taken as you come through the Caps tunnel. You will then head into the huddle for fist bumps as the boys get ready for game time. Your name will also be announced to the crowd, and your photos and experience will be posted on our club's social media pages.

All mascots and guests must wear a helmet (with a face guard, if under 21). Helmets can be provided. If you are doing a walk-on package, no kit is required.

This will again be on a first-come, first-served basis, and packages are now available to purchase through the Capitals Fanbase App for each home game.

Any additional questions, please contact Scott Neil at scottcapitals@gmail.com

Tonight's Mascot is

What do Scouts and teams look for in future players?

For young athletes dreaming of playing at the professional level, being scouted by a team is often the first step towards that goal. However, many players and their families are left wondering what age team typically start looking at hockey players, and what factors they consider when deciding who to sign.

For many young athletes, getting scouted by a hockey team can feel like a distant dream. However, it's important to remember that scouts are always on the lookout for new talent, and that every player has the potential to catch their attention. Whether you're a young player just starting out, or an experienced athlete looking to take your game to the next level, understanding the ins and outs of hockey player scouting can be the key to success.

One of the primary factors that scouts look for in a player is their skill set. This includes everything from stickhandling and shooting to skating and passing. Scouts will often evaluate a player's skill set during games, practices, and drills. They will also take into account a player's physical attributes, such as height, weight, and speed.

Player's skill level

1. Technical skills: Scouts consider a player's skating ability, stickhandling skills, shooting accuracy, and overall hockey IQ when evaluating their technical skills. These skills are essential for players to perform well in games and advance to higher levels of play.

2. Physical attributes: Scouts also consider a player's physical attributes such as size, strength, and speed. These factors can have a significant impact on a player's ability to compete and succeed in a highly physical sport like hockey.

3. Intangibles: Scouts also evaluate a player's intangibles, such as their work ethic, attitude, and coachability. These qualities can be just as important as a player's physical and technical skills when it comes to success on and off the ice.

4. Consistency: Scouts also look for players who consistently perform at a high level, game in and game out. Players who have a strong work ethic, mental toughness, and the ability to stay focused and motivated throughout the season are highly valued by scouts.

In summary, a player's skill level is one of the most critical factors that hockey scouts consider when evaluating potential prospects. Scouts carefully evaluate a player's technical skills, physical attributes, intangibles, and consistency before making a decision to sign them to a team.

Age is a Key Factor: Age is an important factor when it comes to scouting hockey players. Young players are more impressionable and can be trained to develop the skills required to become successful in the sport. Scouts look for players who have a natural talent for the game and are willing to work hard to improve their skills.

The Developmental Window: The age range when a player is most likely to develop their skills is between the ages of 10 and 14. This is known as the developmental window. During this time, players can develop skills such as stickhandling, passing, shooting, and skating. Players who start playing hockey at an early age and who have access to quality coaching and training facilities have a better chance of developing these skills.

Age-Appropriate Competitions: Hockey scouts also look for players who have competed at an age-appropriate level. Players who have played at a high level at a young age are more likely to be scouted. However, it's important to remember that players who dominate at a young age don't always continue to dominate as they get older.

Physical Development: Physical development is also a factor when it comes to scouting hockey players. Scouts look for players who have the physical attributes required to play the sport at a high level. This includes factors such as height, weight, and strength. Players who are taller and stronger may have an advantage over their peers, but it's important to remember that physical attributes alone are not enough to make a successful hockey player.

Importance of early development: Early age development plays a crucial role in determining a player's success in hockey. Scouts look for players who have been honing their skills from a young age and have the potential to develop further

The NHL is looking to invest more time and money into efforts to grow the game internationally, particularly in Europe, Commissioner Gary Bettman said following the League's Board of Governors meeting Wednesday.

"We're focused on what we can be doing more outside of North America to continue to grow the game on a world-wide basis," Commissioner Bettman said. "That's becoming an increasing focus and priority for us because we believe we're the most international, certainly with our player composition, of the four major sports in North America and we think there's a great opportunity. But even more than the opportunity we'd like to see the game continue to grow."

Commissioner Bettman said the League is looking at a variety of ways to expand its footprint outside of North America. "We're not talking about starting a league," the Commissioner said. "It's more about playing games, media, grassroots programs, providing content -- the things we do in North America on a regular basis and we've been doing to some extent in Europe. But this is about investing more of ourselves in building."

As part of its efforts toward international growth, on Wednesday the NHL announced a media agreement with Nine to broadcast games in Australia every Saturday morning throughout this season

However, Commissioner Bettman said the focus of the League's international efforts will remain in Europe because of the League's built-in popularity there, the opportunity for growth in hockey communities and its relationships with existing leagues.

To that end, the NHL will continue the Global Series this season with the Pittsburgh Penguins and Nashville Predators playing two games at Avicii Arena in Stockholm, Sweden, on Nov. 14 and 16.

The League and NHL Players' Association are also focused on the return of the World Cup of Hockey in 2028, with games to be played in both Europe and North America.

NHL Deputy Commissioner Bill Daly said the League expects to receive bids from 18 North American markets and 10 European markets that are interested in hosting World Cup tournament games.

Daly said the League and NHLPA want to be in position to review those bids in time to make decisions in February. "We're focused on the world, but I think Europe is the primary focus in the short term because in Europe we're very well-known and very popular," Commissioner Bettman said. "But we also want to be good citizens in the hockey world with respect to the existing leagues that are there, so we are going to be looking for ways to collaborate to grow the game."

Regarding the Olympics, Commissioner Bettman expressed some concern about the progress being made on the construction of the main hockey venue for the event, the Milano Santagiulia Ice Hockey Arena.

The Associated Press reported Wednesday that local organizers confirmed that the timeline for the construction will not allow the arena to undergo its originally scheduled test event in December. The construction issue leaves open the possibility that the arena will not be tested before the Olympics begin.

The first event scheduled at the arena is a women's ice hockey preliminary competition on Feb. 5. The men's tournament featuring NHL players is scheduled to begin Feb. 11. Commissioner Bettman deferred to the IOC when he was asked about contingency plans.

"This is not our event," the Commissioner said. "We are constrained in what we can and can't do, request and demand, and if it reached a certain point we'll have to deal with it. But I'm not speculating and we've been constantly assured by the IOC and the IIHF (International Ice Hockey Federation) that it will be OK."

Hockey Moms are a vital part of a team

Hockey moms have been a part of the game for decades, and their role has evolved over time. In the early days of hockey, moms weren't as involved in their child's sport as they are today. They would often drop their kids off at the rink and pick them up when the game was over. But as hockey grew in popularity, so did the role of the hockey mom.

While some may believe that a hockey mom's role is limited to transportation and cheering, it goes far beyond that. A hockey mom is also responsible for ensuring her child is well-fed, hydrated, and rested for practices and games. She may also assist in organizing team events, fundraising, and even coaching.

In recent years, the role of a hockey mom has evolved significantly. The traditional image of a hockey mom as simply a chauffeur, dropping off and picking up kids from practices and games, has expanded to include a broader range of responsibilities and activities.

Today's hockey moms are more involved in their child's development as players and as people. They often take on the role of team manager, organizing schedules, fundraisers, and team events. They also act as a support system for their children and other team members, creating a positive and encouraging atmosphere both on and off the ice.

The modern hockey mom is also more engaged in the hockey community as a whole, volunteering at local rinks and supporting the sport at a grassroots level. With the rise of social media, they also play a role in promoting their child's team and sharing updates with other parents and players.

If you're lucky enough to have a Supportive Hockey Mom on your child's team, make sure to thank her for all that she does!

The Supportive Hockey Mom is always there to cheer on her child's team, win or lose. She values teamwork and encourages her child to be a good sport, on and off the ice. She volunteers her time and resources to help the team, whether it's organizing fundraisers or carpooling to games. She's the first to offer a word of encouragement when her child is feeling down and knows how to celebrate their successes.

The Supportive Hockey Mom is also a great source of emotional support for other parents and players. She's always willing to lend an ear and offer advice when needed, and her positive attitude is contagious.

Every hockey team has a unique set of moms that support the players from the stands. Here are five types of hockey moms you may encounter:

The Competitive Mom: This mom is all about winning and will do whatever it takes to make sure her child's team is successful. She's not afraid to voice her opinions and can sometimes come across as intimidating.

The Cheerleader Mom: This mom is always upbeat and positive. She's often the loudest mom in the stands, cheering on not only her own child but also every other player on the team. Her enthusiasm is infectious.

The Chill Mom: This mom is laid back and takes a relaxed approach to the game. She's happy to sit back and watch her child have fun on the ice without getting too caught up in the score or outcome.

The Social Mom: This mom is all about building relationships with the other parents on the team. She's always organizing events, team dinners, and other social activities to bring the team together off the ice.

The Overprotective Mom: This mom is constantly worried about her child's safety on the ice. She may be quick to criticize other players or coaches and can sometimes come across as overbearing.

Which type of hockey mom are you?

Official Referee and Linesperson signals

OK, we have published these officials signals previously but we are always adding to our fanbase and some people have been querying the various signals during the game. Here is a refresher on what you might see called during games.

SLASHING
A series of chopping motions with the edge of one hand across the opposite forearm.

TRIPPING
Extending right leg forward, clear of the ice, and striking it with right hand below the knee.

BOARDING
Pounding the closed fist of one hand into the open palm of the other hand.

MISCONDUCT
Placing of both hands on hips several times and pointing to penalized player.

HOLDING
Clasping either wrist with the other hand well in front of the chest.

ELBOWING
Tapping either elbow with the opposite hand.

HOOKING
A series of tugging motions with both arms, as if pulling something toward the stomach.

CROSS-CHECKING
A series of forward and backward motions with both fists clenched extending from the chest.

CHARGING
Rotating clenched fists around one another in front of chest.

HIGH-STICKING
Holding both fists clenched, one immediately above the other, at the height of the forehead.

'WASH-OUT'
Both arms swung laterally across the body with palms down.
1. When used by the Referee it means goal disallowed.
2. When used by Linesmen it means there is no icing or no off-side.

ICING
Arms folded across the chest.

INTERFERENCE
Crossed arms stationary in front of chest.
